

Attempt to Injure Him.

In this phase further he declared the belief that a deliberately prepared attack had been planned against him by the latter had feared as absolutely without foundation. He claimed the contrary failed to show that Mayes or McAvity made claim on his consideration.

Dr. Puggley stated that honorable and manly way the character of all opponent on mere insinuation. Dr. Daniel took exception to this. The speaker did not hear the word, "insinuation," Dr. Pugsley said he could not possibly withdraw the statement as he was simply laying down a rule which should govern every member. Dr. Daniel insisted that the speaker said the words "unmanly and dishonourable" were "unparliamentary." Dr. Pugsley denied using the words and proceeded, explaining that the proper course for a member, instead of making insinuations, was to make charges. Dr. Daniel took exception to the word "insinuations." He had made none, and required a withdrawal. He said he had never insinuated anything, but Mayes had made a charge in an affidavit. Considerable feeling followed.

Col. Hughes' sarcasm was not pleasing to the speaker, who intimated, one announced that Dr. Pugsley had withdrawn the obnoxious phrase. Continuing, Dr. Pugsley declared Dr. Daniel had made insinuations as evidenced by his allusion to Hon. Mr. Emmerson's resignation.

What the Records Show.
Turning again to Mayes' affidavit, the minister quoted the records to show there were other witnesses, one asking 40 cents per yard more money. Mayes would be prosecuted, however, he having received money from the department. The minister emphatically denied he had any interest, directly or indirectly, in the contract. He had no knowledge of Mayes and Melville's relations, other than that they were jointly interested in dredging contracts. The documents showed that Mayes sought a betterment of his contract, but had been held strictly to its terms. Had the minister wished to retain the friendship of Melville, the minister would have helped rather than discouraged Mayes. Dr. Pugsley concluded by denouncing the tactics used in St. John, declaring his mistakes had been mistakes of the local, not of the heart. The minister reiterated his readiness to meet any charge.

The Premier Speaks.
Shortly before midnight Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose stating that the practice in the Canadian parliament was that when a member had made a charge he did it by rising in his seat and taking the responsibility of it. He quoted the case of a charge brought in the House by the late Mr. Tarte. The premier said that Dr. Daniel had an affidavit read, and was read at a public meeting by the premier of New Brunswick, but did not dare to proceed with the affidavit and did not take the responsibility. He merely said that he had sufficient faith in it to say it was true. Sir Wilfrid declared the affidavit bore out its face the evidence, the falsehood of a self-confessed boaster. Regarding the charge made that Hon. Mr. Pugsley had got $2,000 from Mr. Mayes, the minister had met that at once by pointing out that it was for professional services. Brignien up the matter was not consistent with the dignity of the House. The allegation had been made that Mayes had the dredging had been held up by the minister. The bill-up was rather by Mr. Mayes. There was a difference he said between the Major Hodgins case and this. Major Hodgins, who was an honest man, had made charges against the N. T. R. commissioners, and they had asked for an inquiry. As regards the case of Hon. Mr. Emmerson, that was entirely different.

A Want of Confidence.
Sir Wilfrid also pointed out that the resolution as submitted could not be amended. The premier in conclusion said that he had never insinuated anything, but Mayes had made a charge in an affidavit. Considerable feeling followed.

Col. Hughes' sarcasm was not pleasing to the speaker, who intimated, one announced that Dr. Pugsley had withdrawn the obnoxious phrase. Continuing, Dr. Pugsley declared Dr. Daniel had made insinuations as evidenced by his allusion to Hon. Mr. Emmerson's resignation.

Parliamentary Men in the Way.
Taking up an argument of the premier, that the resolution could not be amended, Mr. Foster said that amendments to the motion to go into force had been accepted in the past. It would not go down with the people he said, that because of parliamentary men the demand for an inquiry must be blocked. If an inquiry motion were only granted, the opposition would not object to the form it might take. Mr. Foster then declared that Dr. Pugsley for not having produced the courts against Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick, who had read the affidavit. Mr. Mayes had been called a boaster. If that were true, it was a boaster ten times over. He had taken thirty-five thousand dollars from the public treasury and it was the duty of the prime minister to get after him and get it back.

Attempted Suicide Under Arrest.
John Hood, Sask., April 15.—The Mr. Roberts, who attempted suicide at New Brunswick, who had read the affidavit, for not having produced the courts against Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick, who had read the affidavit. Mr. Mayes had been called a boaster. If that were true, it was a boaster ten times over. He had taken thirty-five thousand dollars from the public treasury and it was the duty of the prime minister to get after him and get it back.

CHURCHILL ON NAVAL REFORM.

Winston Spencer Defends Government's Policy—Possibility of War Remote.

London, April 15.—In a long letter to his admirers, dealing with naval matters, Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the board of trade, declared that no more fatal objection could be made to the present naval policy than the brain of any statesman than to suppose there was a profound antagonism between Great Britain and Germany, which could only be solved by war, because through their commercial interests alone these two countries are necessary to each other.

In a general defence of the government's naval policy, Mr. Churchill flatly declares that it would be absurd to build ships against the United States and that it would be equally absurd to take the American navy into consideration in framing the British naval estimates.

"Because," he added, "we do not believe there is any reasonably probable, any humanly conceivable, combination against the peace and freedom of the British empire, which would include the American navy."

FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1909.

EDMONTON APPROX IN THE LEAN YEARS TOO.

In 1901 Edmonton had a population of 2,606. In 1908 Edmonton had a population of 11,631. It is well to take a census to find out what population Edmonton has in 1909.

The intervening period has been not the most favorable for rapid city growth. Therefore, if Edmonton has made substantial growth during that period the fact would stand out the clearer and more significant.

Large growth is looked for in a young city, in a time of easy money, of large investment, of general enterprise, of railway construction, of large immigration. It was not strange viewed from the standpoint of the present—that the piping times which preceded the last census had been times of remarkable growth in Edmonton. It would have been a phenomenon if the city had not grown wonderfully in those three years.

It will be an equally striking thing if the city can demonstrate to the world that the financial stress, the commercial depression, the industrial disturbance, the falling off in immigration, the shortening of investment, have not materially lessened the speed of Edmonton's growth in the dull years that have followed the census of 1906.

Edmonton's enemies sneered at the city's growth three years ago. "Boom," founded on the insubstantial basis of real estate speculation. The kind of things we have been having during the past couple of years are not the things that make "boom." To demonstrate that Edmonton has grown as rapidly during the past couple of years, or more so, as during the preceding five years would be the unanswerable condemnation of those who have represented this city's advance as the ravings of a period of speculation.

If Edmonton has grown as fast or nearly as fast during the past three years as during the preceding five years the world should be told about it. The statistics would be the sign known and read all over that there is something more substantial behind Edmonton's remarkable growth than the fictitious increase of real estate prices by the swelling of city lots.

The credit of Edmonton needs no boosting by ways that are dark and by means that are smooth, but Edmonton is entitled to credit that is real and the lowest interest rates it can secure in the money markets of the world. Edmonton's credit and her debenture rate are being bettered by a census showing in figures the splendid growth which its residents know the city has enjoyed during the unpropitious times through which the world has been passing.

Edmonton people are confident that the census will show that this city has grown during the past three years nearly as fast, if not as fast, as during the five years preceding the last census. To show this will be to show the world that Edmonton grows in times of general adversity as well as in times of general prosperity.

DOLLAR AND QUARTER WHEAT.

The wholesale price of flour in Edmonton has gone up twenty cents per bushel because a Chicago wheat operator saw his chance to make a few millions and took it.

But the Edmonton consumer who pays twenty cents for a sack more for his flour will not have the consolation of knowing that the twenty cents or any part of it goes into the pocket of the Alberta farmer, or any other farmer.

Dollar and a quarter wheat is a phenomenon that only makes its appearance at the season of the year when the farmer has no wheat to sell. While the granaries of the country are crammed with wheat no man will offer a dollar and a quarter for it, for it is because he can get his wheat supplied for less money. The wheat supply cannot be "cornered" while it is piled in the granaries of the farmer for evidence as to which call Joseph Letter, Jr.

Another Joseph who managed things in Egypt many centuries ago is the only man on record who has engineered a successful effort in wheat by taking up the supply direct from the farmers—and the wheat pit was a new thing in that country and in these days. Modern operators are not Josephs though they accomplish the same results in the long run.

The modern wheat-pit operator deceives the consumer without sharing his profits with the wheat producer. It is only when the farmer has no wheat to sell that the operator becomes really anxious to buy wheat.

Viewed from the rear the grain trade last fall would have been the greatest windfall the wheat grower of Alberta ever had if it had been there enough and produced enough to prevent Alberta wheat getting out of the farmers' hands until James Patton found his ambitions running in the direction of November 1909.

Viewed from another angle the lack of shipping facilities prevents the farmer of Alberta profiting by his position as to the future of the wheat market. With few railways and inadequate car supply the Alberta farmer must ship when he can or take chances on having to hold longer than he wants to. With the certainty that he could ship whenever he wanted to the Alberta farmer would be in position to sell his grain when the price suited him, instead of having either to rush it from the threshing into the market or take chances on having to hold it until the railways were able to accommodate him. More railways and more cars will allow the Alberta farmer to use his head as to when to market his wheat.

THE "ROYAL COMMISSION"

The Port Arthur board of trade gathered for its mastery ineffectually that the Whitney government does not propose to discharge its duty of protecting the men who are building a new railway through the northern portion of that province.

Whereas the Port Arthur board of trade calls upon the Federal parliament for a royal commission to investigate the alleged inhuman treatment of emigrants engaged in the construction of the National Transcontinental railway.

Public opinion will endorse the petition of the Port Arthur board of trade, both that the Whitney government need not be expected to protect the lives of people who may choose to live in northern Ontario, and that the repeated outrages on the railway construction work in that province should be investigated.

But the public opinion that is qualified to judge will conclude that the best royal commission to send into the woods of northern Ontario is a detachment of the Royal North-West Mounted police.

A trio of grey-haired and well-tinted gentlemen sitting in Port Arthur and other convenient places, bringing witnesses in from the construction camps at the public expense will be very well for the business of Port Arthur.

But a commission that will find out things as they are and have been and will make things what they ought to be is a commission that will investigate conditions on the ground—and continue to investigate them on the ground day by day until the work is finished.

The petition from the Port Arthur board of trade puts it up to the federal government and the Federal parliament to relieve the victims of the neglect of duty of protecting the men in the construction camps of the National Transcontinental railway.

It is the declaration of men who claim to know and who probably do, that the government of the province of Ontario has either neglected or unwilling to enforce law and protect human life in the one part of the province where life was most certain to need protection.

The petition for a Royal Commission of investigation might well be granted—and suit commission headed for Toronto, there to conduct its investigations among the whys and wherefores of Attorney General Fox's historic discovery of human life in the railway camps of his bailiwick.

But the Royal Commission that will permanently stop the improper treatment of emigrants and especially those in the railway camps is the commission of an inspector of the R. N. W. M. P. operating through a few score of efficient landings on the coast since the close of the operations.

OVER 30 INVASIONS OF BRITAIN.

Great Britain has been for so long exempt from foreign invasion, says the Manchester Mail, that it will come as a surprise to many people to learn that there have been more than fifty successful landings on the coast since the historic event at Hastings.

There is hardly a single day in the coast which has not at one time or another witnessed the arrival of invading forces. German troops, it is said, have been landed in Lancashire.

Most of the invasions are, perhaps, scarcely worthy of being dignified with the name of invasions, but the map does not show that there have been certain successful assaults on the British coast, in spite of certain postal notices to the contrary.

The history of the coast gives particulars of all the landings and invasions in detail on the map since—

Go into any of the big offices. Pick out a hundred men. Separate the shabby from the well dressed. And you'll find the unreliable men, the careless men, the men-at-the-bottom, are the shabby men.

Shabby clothes seem to breed a shabby mind, just as bad thoughts breed bad habits. It is the clothes we wear every day, that influence our lives, just as it is the things we do every day that make us what we are.

A frock coat and an hour in church on Sunday, won't equalize six days of shabbiness and dishonesty. Dress your body and you dress your mind.

"Progress Brand" Clothing is an incentive to good work. "Progress Brand" Clothing helps a man to be successful because it makes him look successful. Take the first step towards bettering yourself by wearing the best clothing.

What Silas Saw in Slater Shoes.
GOSH all hemlock! Why? Should you or me, Son—say Five good dollars, or even Four, For them there "Slater Shoes" When— We kin get them for good Goodness—like that! Just as long, let us say! Now tell me, Silas—Why?

"Because, for why, Dad? Well—these few remarks apply: "I note you don't wear 'Wooden Shoes.' Like saying-folks in Holland. They're cheaper far than Cowhide, And they can't wear out. Besides, they're easy to repair With a piece of board, a saw, A hammer and some nails, Why don't you wear 'em, Dad?"

"As for me, I can't afford to Ride in Boston-Buggy coach. So I must walk a lot between. And when I walk, I want to feel My feet so free and comfortable That I can just forget them And think of something else That earns a dollar. Fairer 'Slater Shoes' meanwhile."

"I can hear your Cowhides Creaking, Pa—when you are far away And, surely out-of-sight... "And, when I figure up... They sound and look, why then, I'm sorry for your feet."

"I'll have Strong Elbow." The Victoria Times says: "The Victoria Times says: 'The tournament this year will take place in Vancouver. The Seattle team led for the tournament last year at the close of the matches here and was promoted. They, however, had to stand down, as they were unable to get a sufficient number of grounds, three at least being required. The Calgary and Winnipeg teams intended joining the race, and will go south as far as Portland for most of that club does not come to the tournament. Portland, however, with the reputation of being a good team, can safely be relied on to give the tournament. The engagement of a professional coach which the local club is making, in proof that they intend to enter the local game is the best evidence of their intention.'"
